

TERMS OF SERVICE

Important Notice: Please read the following clauses carefully

Service Process Overview

To ensure the professionalism and security of our services, your complete course purchase process will be completed through the website operated by International Association for Sustainable Economy (IASE) China Limited (hereinafter referred to as "IASE China"): iase-certifications.com.hk.

Any operation conducted by you on this website shall constitute your acceptance of the services provided by IASE China, and you shall be bound by these Terms of Service.

Welcome to the services provided by this Platform. These Terms of Service ("Terms") form a legally binding agreement between you ("User") and IASE China (Registered Address: 19/F, Wings Building, 110-116 Queen's Road Central, Hong Kong), governing your access to and use of our online course browsing, purchase, payment and related services primarily available through the above website.

1. Acceptance and Amendment of Terms

1.1 By clicking confirmation, browsing, using or registering for the Platform Services, you confirm that you have thoroughly read, fully understood and agreed to be bound by all provisions of these Terms. If you disagree with any clause herein, you must not browse or use the Platform.

1.2 IASE China reserves the right to revise these Terms from time to time. Revised clauses will be published on the Platform and take effect immediately upon publication. If you reject the revised version, you shall cease using the Platform Services forthwith; your continued use of the Platform shall be deemed acceptance of the updated Terms.

1.3 Definition: Unless otherwise specified herein, "Platform" refers to all online interfaces operated by IASE China for the provision of the services set out in these Terms.

2. Scope of Services

2.1 The Platform provides integrated services including online course information display, course selection, payment, course activation and educational materials ("Services"). The exact scope of services shall be arranged by IASE China according to actual operational needs.

2.2 IASE China reserves the right to modify, suspend or terminate part or all of the Services at any time without liability to Users or any third parties. Where practicable, IASE China will issue prior notice via website announcements, system messages or other channels.

3. Account Registration and Use

3.1 You warrant that upon registration or use of the Services, you are an individual, legal entity or organisation aged 18 or above with full legal capacity. If you are under 18, you must read these Terms with your guardian and obtain prior consent from your guardian before using the Services.

3.2 You shall provide true, accurate and complete information during registration and update such information in a timely manner. You shall bear all consequences arising from false or inaccurate information.

3.3 Your account is for your personal use only. You must not gift, rent, lend, sub-license, transfer or otherwise allow any third party to use your account. Upon breaching this clause, IASE China reserves the right to suspend or terminate service access to your account and pursue corresponding legal liabilities.

3.4 You shall properly safeguard your account username and password and be liable for all activities conducted under your account. You must notify IASE China immediately upon discovering any unauthorised access to your account to prevent further losses.

3.5 IASE China shall bear no liability for any inability to access the Platform or losses incurred by you caused by cyberattacks, improper password custody, account sharing, failure to notify IASE China promptly or any other factors outside IASE China's control; all relevant liabilities shall be borne solely by you.

3.6 IASE China reserves the right to withdraw your registered account access and terminate all relevant services if any of the following circumstances arise:

- (a) The account is proven to be used by a person other than the registered User;
- (b) There is no login activity for six consecutive months;
- (c) You are in persistent material breach of these Terms or other reasonable grounds apply.

4. Service Process, Payment and Invoices

4.1 Process Description: After confirming your purchase intention on the Platform selection page, you will be redirected to the payment interface for login, order confirmation and settlement. Such redirection forms an integral part of a continuous service workflow and does not alter the single contractual relationship between you and IASE China.

4.2 Formation of Contract: The sales contract for the relevant course shall take effect once you complete all payment procedures on the payment interface and IASE China receives notification of successful payment.

4.3 Order Confirmation and Voucher: Upon contract formation, IASE China will send an order confirmation email to you stating the course name, order number, amount, purchase time and other transaction details. This email constitutes a valid electronic transaction voucher and should be retained by you properly.

4.4 Payment Security: Payment processing shall be handled by licensed third-party payment institutions. IASE China will not store your complete bank card information.

4.5 Payment Receipts: Upon successful payment, IASE China will issue electronic receipts based on the information submitted by you. The specific rules governing payment receipts shall be subject to prompts on the payment page or order confirmation emails.

4.6 Governing Law Reference: Any dispute arising out of the Services shall be governed by Clause 10 (Governing Law and Dispute Resolution) of these Terms.

4.7 Third-Party Learning Platform: You acknowledge and agree that the course learning system is technically supported by Tencent Lexiang or Blackboard. When using such learning services, you shall comply with these Terms as well as the terms of service and privacy policy published by the relevant platform. IASE China shall not be liable for the system stability, service availability or content of the third-party platform, but will select service providers with reputable standing in the industry.

4.8 You acknowledge that your use of the Platform may involve third-party software services (including without limitation WeChat and Alipay). IASE China shall not be responsible for information errors, delays, data leakage, connection failures, server faults or other issues caused by such third-party services.

5. User Code of Conduct

You undertake not to utilise the Platform Services to engage in any of the following conduct:

5.1 Engage in any activity that contravenes the Ordinances, subsidiary legislation and other legally binding regulations applicable in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China.

5.2 Upload, transmit or publish any false, harassing, offensive, defamatory, threatening, obscene or other unlawful and harmful information.

5.3 Infringe the intellectual property rights, trade secrets, privacy rights, reputation rights or other legitimate rights and interests of any third party.

5.4 Spread computer viruses, trojans or other malicious code, or conduct any activity endangering the cybersecurity of the Platform or other parties.

5.5 Attempt unauthorised access to the Platform's servers or databases, or perform any act that imposes unreasonable load on the Platform systems.

5.6 Conduct decompilation or reverse engineering of the website; create unauthorised hyperlinks, mirror sites or embed any part of the Platform.

5.7 Run any program for data scraping, data mining or any operation that may impede the normal operation and functionality of the Platform.

5.8 Copy, distribute, disseminate or otherwise utilise materials obtained via the Services (including content, program code and data) without authorisation.

5.9 Carry out commercial promotion via the Platform, or engage in any commercial activity without prior written authorisation from IASE China.

5.10 If you breach any of the above clauses, you shall bear all corresponding legal consequences. IASE China reserves the right to take measures including without limitation suspending or terminating your account access without compensation, and retains the right to claim losses against you.

6. Intellectual Property

6.1 All intellectual property rights subsisting in the Platform (including trademarks, patents, copyrights, trade secrets and others) belong exclusively to IASE China.

6.2 All content provided on the Platform (including software, images, audio, video, text and other materials) is owned by IASE China or relevant rights holders.

6.3 Without prior written express authorisation from IASE China or relevant rights holders, you must not copy, modify, adapt, distribute, resell, translate, disseminate, reverse engineer, decompile or create derivative works from Platform content. You are granted a limited, non-transferable, non-exclusive licence to use course materials solely for your personal learning purposes. Any breach of this clause may result in civil and/or criminal liability, and you shall compensate IASE China for all losses incurred.

6.4 The intellectual property clauses set out in this Chapter shall survive account cancellation or termination of service.

7. Personal Data Protection

IASE China attaches great importance to the protection of your personal data. Please refer to the separate Privacy Policy published by us for details regarding our collection, use, storage, transfer and protection of your personal data. The Privacy Policy forms an integral part of these Terms.

8. Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability

8.1 IASE China does not warrant that the Platform Services will fully satisfy all your requirements, nor does it warrant uninterrupted service; no guarantee is given as to the timeliness, stability or accuracy of the Services.

8.2 IASE China shall not be liable for service suspension, data loss or other defects caused by force majeure (earthquake, fire, war, government orders and similar events), computer viruses, hacking attacks, system malfunctions, third-party service disruptions or other such factors.

8.3 In no circumstances shall IASE China's total aggregate liability to you, whether arising in contract, tort (including negligence) or any other legal ground, exceed the fees actually paid by you to IASE China for the relevant Services; this limitation shall not apply to losses arising from IASE China's fraud or wilful default.

8.4 If payment failures, delays, unauthorised card transactions or other financial risks occur due to banks, third-party payment providers or other financial channels, IASE China will provide enquiry assistance pursuant to its agreements with such institutions, but shall not bear direct compensation liability for the acts of those institutions.

9. Termination

9.1 You may terminate these Terms at any time by cancelling your account.

9.2 If IASE China identifies any breach of these Terms by you, it reserves the right to unilaterally terminate service provision to you and pursue legal remedies against you.

10. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

10.1 These Terms are governed by and construed in accordance with the law of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China.

10.2 Any dispute arising out of or in connection with these Terms shall first be resolved through amicable negotiation between the parties. If negotiation fails, the parties agree to submit disputes to the courts of Hong Kong and accept the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts.

11. General Provisions

11.1 These Terms constitute the entire agreement between you and IASE China in relation to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior oral or written communications and agreements between the parties.

11.2 IASE China's failure to enforce any clause of these Terms shall not be deemed a waiver of that clause or any other relevant rights held by IASE China.

11.3 If any provision of these Terms is ruled invalid or unenforceable by a competent court, such provision shall be deemed void without affecting the validity of the remaining clauses.

11.4 All rights for matters not expressly stipulated herein are reserved by IASE China, subject to compliance with applicable legislation.

11.5 If you have enquiries or complaints regarding service usage, accounts, orders, payment, courses, refunds or invoices, please send an email to: info@iase-certifications.cn

IASE China will duly follow up and resolve your enquiries.
